I am writing to express my concerns regarding USDA's FDP re-engineering program. I am well satisfied with many aspects of USDA's food distribution program. We are happy with the current labeling program and the quality of foods received. I would much prefer not to see commercial labels used for USDA foods. Our managers are heavily involved in recordkeeping and receiving USDA foods in commercial labels would only make accountability more difficult. I also prefer to continue the use of domestic foods in the program. In our small school system, the commodities are an asset to the school program, helping us to maintain a quality program at a low sale price to students. Please take our comments in consideration.
